MILITARY POLICE SERGT. FINED $20

Sergt. Deshields Arraigned Saturday at Special Session of Court

USED HARSH WORDS

It Was Charged That Deshields Also Threatened to Place "Shells" In Two Citizens.

The case of Sergeant Deshields, of the military police, who was charged with applying vile epithets to Rev. E. V. Regester and Henry Hunter and threatening to shoot both came before the Police Court on Saturday night. The offenses were alleged to have been committed the previous night shortly after the fearful accident to government auto truck in which six persons were killed and several others injured.

According to the evidence, Deshields became greatly exasperated at Mr. Hunter and Dr. Regester because they made friendly suggestions to Dr. M. D. Delaney, who had been called to minister to the injured. The sergeant used language towards these gentlemen, it was charged, disgusting in the extreme, and in addition, threatened to place "shells" in both, while he flourished his pistol in a menacing manner.

The accused made no attempt to combat the testimony, and stated that he was excited at the time.

Many persons had assembled to hear the testimony, among them the lieutenant in charge of the military police in this city. The latter was requested to approach the desk the fact that he had heard the evidence, and he was asked if, according to the testimony, the sergeant was justifiable in acting unseemingly and threateningly. The lieutenant replied, "Probaby not." Continuing, however, he said had he been at the southern approach to Hunting Creek bridge after the accident to the truck he might have shot somebody. The accident occurred in Fairfax county, and the Police Court did not investigate what happened there, but that which subsequently occurred in the streets of this city.

Leo McKenney testified that he was at the south end of the bridge after the accident and that he, too, had been threatened by a member of the military police. He, however, said he could not positively identify Deshields as his assailant.

Justice Thompson called attention to an occurrence which caused some excitement during carnival week in this city, when a member of the military police chased a man who, it was alleged, had committed a misdemeanor, firing his pistol several times as the man ran. The latter finally fell in the street, when his pursuer rushed upon him and struck him with the stock of his pistol. The justice said Deshields was present at the time and heard the court state that, while Alexandria appreciated the services of the military police, "cossack" procedures would not be tolerated. Lieutenant Dillon, in charge of the squad, had on that occasion stated in extenuation that the prisoner was "raw." The court reiterated that the military police is a valuable adjunct to our own department, but when a member committs a violent breach of the peace, he must prepare himself to suffer the consequences. The fine was paid.

J. SIDNEY PETERS PLEADS

Declares National Prohibition Makes Law Enforcement Problem No Less Acute

In a vigorous defense of the official acts of himself and the agents of his department, Commissioner of Prohibition J. Sidney Peters declares in an extensive, signed statement that the era of national prohibition does not render less acute the problems of law enforcement in Virginia and says that Virginia should be the last State in the union to fail to appropriate money for this purpose.

"As long as there is a place at which intoxicants are manufactured," he says, "there will be attempts at the illegal transportation and sale of its products. So long as the depraved appetite for alcohol and other drugs exists in any portion of the population; so long as the illicit satisfaction of its appetite offers opportunities for enormous profits, just so long will all the energies of organized society be necessary to combat the evil.

"It is manifest that for every dollar the State spends in the enforcement of the law, the public schools receive at least two dollars from the literary fund, to which, under section 134 of the Code of Virginia fines and forfeitures accrue It will be apparent that the large revenue now being received by the State of Virginia will be entirely diverted to the Federal government if the cases are not tried in the State courts. It will be unfortunate to rob the school children of Virginia of these revenues.

This work is in progress this week. CARD FROM MR. OGDEN

Having heard from various sources that a statement is being circulated throughout this City and Camp Humphries that the Fire Department refused to lend assistance on the occasion of the accident which occurred early Saturday morning at the South end of Hunting Creek bridge, resulting in the death of six persons, respectfully ask that I be permitted through the columns of your paper to challenge the truth of such a statement.

The writer personally responded to the call for help, and carried a member of the military police stationed in this city in his machine to the scene of the accident, being among the very first to arrive—in fact—before a single man had been rescued from beneath the overturned truck. I found however, one man who had been thrown into the water, but not pinned beneath the truck, had already been placed in the military patrol. Simultaneous with my arrival the work of rescue was started, and the six men were taken from the water and laid side by side on the road-way. Realizing that the patrol would be totally inadequate to convey such a number of men to the hospital, I immediately offered the services of any necessary part of the Fire Department equipment, and suggested to a military officer in charge that a motor driven hose wagon be called, knowing that its carrying capacity would be sufficient to handle the men who could not be accommodated in the military patrol wagon. About that time, however, the Alexandria City Police Patrol was heard coming down the road, and the two patrols together with a private machine which had in the meantime arrived furnished sufficient capacity. After both the injured and dead men had been removed, it was thought that a body was still beneath the truck, and complaint was made of the difficulty in searching with out lights. I again offered the services of as many pieces of the Department as may be necessary carrying high power electric lights, but in the excitement, the suggestion was either not heeded, or not heard. I again repeated the offer, but an officer arrived and stated that all men had been accounted for.

This statement is made without fear of sucessful contradiction, and any person who states that an appeal was made to the proper persons for assistance by the Fire Department and that the same was not granted, deliberately misstates the facts, and I offer this explanation in justice to the officials of the Alexandria City Government.

KENNETH W. OGDEN,
Chief Engineer.

While waiting for the Virginian train two of the woman's children were playing out in the open and were caught on the track by the fast Atlantic Coast Line train. The trial of Ewell Martin and Samuel Martin in the Henry County Court, both men being indicted for first degree murder. Ewell Martin is charged with shooting and killing George F. Carter, a Martinsville policeman, about three weeks ago, when he was in the act of arresting a party of gamblers.

A formidable array of counsel has been retained on both sides, and the Commonwealth is being assisted by some of the most eminent attorneys in this section. To what degree Samuel Martin is involved in the case has not developed, but he claims to have had no part in the murder, but to have moved away from his cousin and the policeman when he was trouble was brewing. Ewell Martin's defense will be that the pistol went off suddenly while both men were struggling to get the weapon. He was only recently discharged from the army.

JOHN WILKES BOOTH

Occasionally during the past half century doubt has been expressed concerning the fate of John Wilkes Booth, who shot and killed President Lincoln on the night of April 14, 1865, in Ford's Theatre in Washington. Lovers of the marvelous have read with interest statements to the effect that the actor was not killed in the Garrett barn by Sergeant Boston Corbett, but escaped and wended his way to another section of the world where he lived for years under an assumed name.

A long story appeared in a Washington paper yesterday in which it was alleged Booth lived years after the scenes of 1865 and died in Oklahoma. The writer makes an unfortunate blunder, however, when he says Doctor Mudd, who rendered surgical aid to Booth was tried and hanged. The doctor was sentenced to serve six years on the Dry Tortugas, where he proved of material assistance to other physicians in curbing yellow fever.

Many years ago the editor of an Ohio paper came to Alexandria for the purpose of ascertaining the actual facts in connection with the killing of Colonel Ellsworth by James T. Jackson in the Marshall House May 24, 1861. In describing the dual tragedy he states that after Jackson shot Ellsworth he was quickly dispatched by Sergeant Boston Corbett. Corporal Brownell, as we all know, shot and killed Jackson.

Many people prefer to credit the marvelous. Readers of French history are convinced that the Dauphin died years after Louis the Sixteenth and Maria Antoinette, his father and mother, had been headed. The little Prince had been placed under the pious care of Simon the shoemaker. Mrs. Muhlbach in one of her novels, however, attempts to show that the Dauphin grew to be a man and was known for years by his friends as Louis the Seventeenth.

THE VISION OF DESTINY

The most powerful argument for the treaty of peace and the League of Nations is the final paragraph of the President's speech to the Senate:

"The stage is set, the destiny disclosed. It has come about by no plan of our conceiving, but by the hand of God, who led us into this way. We cannot turn back. We can only go forward, with lifted eyes and freshened spirit, to follow the vision. It was of this that we dreamed at our birth. America shall in truth show the way. The light streams upon the path ahead, and nowhere else."

As the Philadelphia Record says, of course, there is much to be said for, and some things to be said against, individual features of the treaty and the League. But Destiny points the way to us, and always has. And we have grown great and become useful to the world by following Destiny.

Former Speaker Cannon was asked how he felt after listening to the President, and he replied: "I am no wiser now than I was an hour ago, when I enetred the Senate Chamber." The mental attitude of "Uncle Joe" would have left him perfectly cold under the oratory of Patrick Henry, and he would have listened tranquilly to the reading of the Declaration of Independence and said at its conclusion that he was no wiser than he was before.

All the arguments that could penetrate a mind like his, or that of Senator Borah, or Senaotr Johnson, were against the Declaration. There were advantages to us in the British flag, the commercial legislation was irritating, but we violated it frely. The chances of success could not have been described as bright by the most sanguine. The Johnsons and Lodges and Knoxes and Cannons of the period were opposed to the Declaration.

"The American people see the Vision. They hear the voice of Destiny. They will respond as their forefathers did. The American of today, like the America of all former periods, will take the road of progress, the road of ascent, the only path upon which the light streams."

A TIMELY SUGGESTION

Overconfidence is a deceptive fault that has wrecked many ambitious undertakings says the Manufacturers' Record. "It is sad, but true, that many communities, after energetically working for their development and seeing their efforts rewarded with a fair measure of success, have stopped for a little rest and dropped off to sleep. Some are awaking with a shout, but alas! many are moving along drowsily.

"No wise business man who has labored to make his enterprise a large and prosperous one, would sit back and say to himself, My concern has grown so fast and is so well known that it needs no further help from me in the way of encourageing trade and securing new customers.' Yet that is tacitly the attitude of successful business men in a number of cities and towns, though individually those men are working with might and main to increase trade and enlarge their operations. They have utterly overlooked the fact that, except in rare cases, they prosper only as their community prospers.

"A tpyical illustration of how a city alowed itself to become overconfident after creating a population of over 60,000 in less than 20 years is given in a narticle in the Tampa (Fla.) Times by Hugh C. Macfarlane, chairman of the Tampa Industrial Bureau. Under the heading, "Tampa Became Too Sure of Her Future and Has Been a Loser," in which writer clearly proves his point."

Alexandria has during the past two years been enjoying a high tide in its commercial life. It rose suddenly and the wheels of business have been whirring rapidly ever since. We have, as it were, been caught in the flood, but each individual in the community should be spurred to further activity during these changed conditions, and every effort made to hold the city at the present high water mark. There should be no drifting at this time. This is our opportunity and we should seize the tide at its flood if we would continue to prosper.

KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

Washington Woman Dies as Machine Hits Hole Near Chestertown, Md.

Chestertown, Md., July 14.—Miss Helen Broas, of 636 Massachusetts avenue northeast, Washington, was instantly killed last night when an automobile skidded in trying to pass another car about one mile from the place, and struck a telegraph pole. Three other members of the party were only slightly injured. Coroner Dodd gave a verdict of accidental death.

In company with Charles H. Eshman son of the proprietor of the Vashell House, Miss Edna Bress, of Washington, and Norman Crouch Miss Broas was out for an automobile ride.

As the automobile started to skid Eshman applied the brakes, but in vain. The machine turned over, throwing the occupants out.

BEATS DOG; FINED $20

Virginia Game Warden Appeals S. P. C. A. Will Prosecute

Winchester, Va., July 14.—Daniel Shepherd, game warden of Clarke county, has been fined $20 and costs by Mayor Jones, of Berryville, for cruelty in killing a stray dog on the streets of Berryville. He appealed. Eight prominent women of the town testified they saw Shepherd shoot the dog, which ran to a nearby fence; that the warden followed and began to jump upon it with his feet; that he then dragged the dog to his automobile and began beating it to death with a piece of machinery.

Shepherd testified that he had only one bullet in his rifle, and when this failed to kill the dog he sought to do so the best way he could. He said the law authorizes him to kill stray dogs in any way he sees fit. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals intends to fight the case against Shepherd on the ground of wanton cruelty.

HUN HOPE IS IN U. S.

Bernstorff Says Nation Must Foster Friendly Relations and Ban Socialism

Berlin, July 14.—Count von Bernstorff, former German Ambassador at Washington, writing in the weekly Democratic Germany, advocated a pro-American policy, and points out that a revision of the treaty of peace can come only through the league of nations.

"When Germany is received into the league," he says, "she can hope for a word order checking imperialism by individual powers and bringing about a system binding peoples together across the frontiers of states. I hardly need point out that such a policy would lead us to the side of the United States. There the idea of a league of nations is a living one. There alone are funds to be found, and there the principal champion of the league idea will be at the helm for another twenty months."

Count von Bernstorff says that socialism is unpopular in the United States, and, therefore, if Germans wish to cultivate friendly relations with that country, the most convince Americans, not only that militarism is dead, but that new Germany has no intention of fostering a socialist world revolution.

DRUNK ON 2.75 BEER

Lancaster, Pa., July 14.—Chris Fadlen, a farmhand of Mount Joy, was carried bodily into police headquarters last week the frist prisoner since July 1, and explained in Court today that the "2.75 beer" he drank, "had knocked him unconscious." Fadlen paid the cost and went back to the farm. "I only drank that war beer," he swore.

SAY PREACHER MADE WHISKY

Virginia Colored Divine Held on Moonshine Charge

Danville, Va., July 14.—James Farmer, a negro minister who lives near Sutherlin, has been brought to Danville and held under $950 bond for his appearance before the Federal Court on a charge of operating an illicit still.

Farmer was arrested by prohibition officers, who claim to have found fermenting tubs, liquor making material and the cinders of a still fire at a point 150 yards from his home. The still was not found. Farmers was arrested after his overalls were found to be stained with "beer" and when a well trodden path from the still to the house was discovered.

BUTTERMILK UNDER BAN

Westfield, N. J., July 14.—Buttermilk is to be put on the skids if a strict enforcement of the prohibition law is carried out, according to Prof. L. B. Allyn, of the State Normal School, for it seldom shows less than 1 per cent of alcohol content and rapidly gains more through fermentation.

DOGS TO BE MUZZLED

The new dog law which was recently passed went into effect July 1. Under this law all persons owning dogs are required to register them with the commissioner of revenue and to pay a tax of $1 for male and $3 for female dogs over six months old. Dogs must have collars with a tag attached showing that the tax has been paid, and when at large must be muzzled. A penalty of from $5 to $10 will be imposed for violation of the law. The game warden and his assistants are required to assist in enforcing the law, and if they fail to do so they are liable to a fine.

SHOT PROVES FATAL

Transfusion of Blood Fails to Save Life of Man Who Sought to Escape Sheriff

Charlottesville, Va., July 14.—Clarence H. Ash, of Company F, Forty-eight Infantry, deserter from Camp Jackson, died Saturday a University Hospital from a pistol wound received while attempting to escape from Sheriff Thomas, who apprehended him on a farm near Ivy. Ash broke and ran through a cornfield, but was stopped by a bullet which entered his back at the base of the spine. Transfusion of blood failed to save the man's life. Papers in his possession showed that Ash was born in Hackensack, N. J., twenty-five years ago, that he was discharged from the army March 27 last, and the following day re-enlisted and a month later deserted. On June 15 he married Miss Cora Hatcher, of Albemarle county, the ceremony being performed by Archdeacon Frederick W. Neve, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Ivy. His home address on the enlistment papers was 114 Neptune Avenue, Richmond.

SHOOT DOWN NEGRO

Slaying Follows Friday Riot at Longview; Martial Law Rules

Longview, Texas, July 14.—Martial law was declared yesterday in Longview and the rest of Gregg county as a result of race trouble here precipitated by a fight early Friday between white men and negroes and marked by the slaying of one negro early yesterday afternoon had resisted arrest. There was no further disorder yesterday. Brig. Gen. R. H. McDill, of Dallas, returned to Longview yesterday and immediately took command with more than 250 cavalrymen of the Texas National Guard under his direction.

The negro killed yesterday was Marion Bush, 60 years old, father-in law of Dr. C. P. Davis, accused with S. L. Jones of being a ringleader of the negroes. Both Jones and Davis are missing. The sheriff and a deputy had gone to Bush's home to arrest him. After mildly protesting, they assert, the negro went into his home, reappeared with a pistol and shot at them five times.

LOCKJAW VICTIM CURED

Danville, Va., July 14.—Henry Payne, the 14 year old son of H. L. of Pittsylvania county, whose life was despaired of two weeks ago on account of having contracted tetanus, has been discharged from the local hospital curde. The case is a rare instance where the disease, fully developed when discovered has been successfully combated. The boy's ajws were locked when a local physician was called in, a small cut on the forehead from a flying chip having caused this condition. Serum resorted to failed to produce results, so he was brought to a local hospital, where magnesium sulphate treatment was commenced. For three weeks the boy remained in a coma, but seemed to hold his own. Whenever efforts were made to release the jaws, convulsions resulted. Finally, he awakened from his trance and he is now able to open his mouth at will.

STORM SWEEPS CHILE

Valparaiso, Chile, July 14.—A large portion of the coast of Chile was still isolated yesterday as a result of a snow and sleet storm which swept the region last night and this morning. All wires were down and little had been learned of the loss in life and property.

The German steamers Sais and Tanis were driven ashore here and the Westfalen, another German craft crashed into a small coastal steamer, sending the latter to the bottom.

"Dollars and Sense For Your Town"

A Timely Lecture At Chautauqua by ROSS CRANE

THE ART INSTITUTE OF CHICAGO

Ross Crane is a name to conjure with in Chautauqua and Lyceum circles. Chautauquans will remember with pleasure his talks in past years illustrated by artistic drawings and modeling in clay. This year he comes with a new lecture and a bigger subject. He will talk on "Dollars and Sense for Your Town." Mr. Crane is the head of the Extension Department of the Art Institute of Chicago and is popularly known as the "Evanston Model Home Movement."

Nothing but praise is heard said of Ross Crane and his lectures on community development. He is an artistic genius, who can make good as an entertainer, in the pulpit, on the platform, ... and give sound and constructive advice on any subject that may arise. He is always ready and always manages to bring his message to every-day life. A lucky man, whose fight for civic betterment causes no destruction."

The Overseas Quartette

AT CHAUTAUQUA

Service Men In Musical Treat

How people realize the part that music has had in the winning of the war. That never-give-in spirit called morale is largely a product of the cheerfulness due to the songs of the men on the march and in camp. And we have all heard these songs sung—but most of us only at second-hand.

The "Overseas Quartette," composed of four young men from the A. E. F., will render a program at Chautauqua that will completely satisfy the longing of the home folks to hear at firsthand the songs of the boys in khaki.

These Yankee soldiers bring us the great world war in music. And the songs they will sing will show us that not all of the war was tragedy. Much of it was fun and good fellowship and so in their program these soldier lads will show us the combination of fun, thrills and tragedy which is modern war. They will portray in song and pantomime the many sides of the life that has made men out of weaklings and heroes out of cowards.

Besides the quartette numbers there are excellent solos and duets. Each member of the company is capable of sustaining his own part in solo work most creditably and these numbers will be one of the very enjoyable features of the program. Their songs cover a wide variety and besides the songs of trench and camp, their selections will also be on the eternally interesting themes of love and peace.

The Chautauqua management presents this company with great confidence because each of the members of the company has had extensive experience in platform work before entering the service and there would be no doubt of the success of the attraction as an ordinary civilian quartette. With their unique experience as a background and the timely songs of trench and camp as the main part of their program, this quartette is bound to be one of the features of the Chautauqua Week in your town.

LET THEIR CHILDREN DIE

Attorney General Saunders, Renders Opinion Affecting Sect Living in Martinsville

Richmond, July 14.—Attorney General John R. Saunders has rendered an opinion to the effect that the religious belief of a parent is no excuse for failing to provide medical attendance to his child, and in case of the death of any child under such cirumstances, advises prosecution of the parent for manslaughter.

The opinion was given in answer to a letter from Dr. W. A. Plecker, Registrar of Vital Statistics. The letter stated in part:

"We have an inquiry from our local registrar at Martinsville, Va., inclosing a certificate of death of a child, with statement that this family are "Holy Jumpers." One of their beliefs is that it is not right to employ a physician.

"We have had a number of complaints of children being permitted to die with preventable and curable diseases without any medical attention and without any means being used to prevent spread of the disease

The Attorney General points out in his opinion that Section 3795c of the Code of Virginia, 1904, provides for punishment of parents or others who wilfully neglect minor children. Several precedents are quoted by Mr. Saunders who, in closing his opinion, says:

"While it will be seen from an examination of the authorities, that there is some conflict, the weight of authority supports the view that religious belief constitutes no defense to a prosecution for failure to furnish medical attendance and, in my opinion, the rule laid down in 'Reg. v. Senior, supra,' and majority of the cases referred to in the two notes in Ann. Cas., supra, is plainly right.

"I suggest that you refer the case in question and other similar cases coming to your attention to the commonwealth's attorney of the county in which the offense occurred, with the request that steps be taken for the prosecution of the offender."

BOLT DESTROYS CHIMES

Thirteen Bells Composed the Set and Were Said to be the Finest in the Country

Philadelphia, July 14.—A streak of lightning ripped through the 100-fot spire of the Church of the Saviour, Thirty-eighth street between Market and Chestnut, early yesterday morning, and left behind it a blackened ruin of stone. In its course the lightning utterly destroyed the most finest chime of bells in the city, set fire to the interior woodwork, smashed windows and cracked the masonery. The fire seared and cracked 13 bells which composed the chimes and gutted the spire.

KILLS GROOM OF HALF HOUR.

Mother in Law of West Virginia Murders Son-in-Law

Bluefield, W. Va., July 14.—Roy Willard, 20 years old, a bridegroom of a half an hour, is dead, and Mrs. W. J. Taylor, his mother in law, is in jail here accused of shooting him. The affair occurred Thursday afternoon in the home of Samuel Chapman, where the ceremony had been performed.

Mrs. Taylor had strongly opposed her daughter's marriage to Willard, and refused to attend the ceremony. A short time after the wedding the marriage certificate was shown Mrs. Taylor. Arming herself with a revolver she is said to have gone to the Chapman home and opend fire on Willard. Mrs. Taylor refused to talk.

By reason of the large number of machines in use in the City, and this, the first time local license tax imposed thereon, "automobiles motorcycles and etc., each and every owner of a vehicle shall obtain a city license and pay the sum of three dollars and fifty cents ($3.50) He shall be furnished a tag when license is paid, which must be displayed on each machine. This does not apply to non-residents temporarily operating a machine in this city when not for hire."

The Mayor will be in his office in the City Hall Royal Street side during office hours and each evening from 7 to 10 p. m., from July 15 to 19th., inclusive for the accommodation of those who might find it inconvenient to call during the day.

THOMAS A. FISHER,
165-4t. Mayor.

NOT ONE EXECUTED

Washington, July 14.—A clemency board consisting of Secretary Daniels Rear Admiral George R. Clark, judge advocate general and commander Frank B. Freyer, assistant judge advocate general, now is engaged in reviewing court-martial sentences imposed during the war.

Many punishments involving prison terms or fines are being mitigated or set aside by the reviewing board.

Secretary Daniels announced yesterday that not a man was executed as the result of naval court-martial during the war. In several cases, he said, courts-martial recommended the death penalty, but in each the reviewing board commuted the sentence to imprisonment.

R-34 REACHES ENGLAND

Pulham, England, July 14.—The R-34 landed in the Pulham airdrome at 7:02 Greenwich time yesterday morning (8:02 a. m., New York time) just three days, three hours and six minutes after taking the air at Roosevelt Field, Mineola, N. Y., late Wednesday night.

The R-34 finished the voyage with 1,000 gallons of gasoline in her tanks.

Gen. Maitland, computed the elapsed time of the trip from Mineola to Clifden at 75 hours and 5 minutes.

CHARGE OF MURDER

Prosecutor Calls up New Case and Arraingment

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—By a bit of strategy, which cuts away one of the chief reliances of the defense—the cross examination of witnesses District Attorney Woolwine Saturday ordered the Harry S. New, Jr., case before the grand jury, thereby eliminating the preliminary hearing which was to have been held Monday.

This surprising disposition was plainly a bow to New's attorney, John L. Richardson, as had counted upon the laying the foundation for an insanity plea when the witnesses for the prosecution testified before Township Justice Hinshaw today.

The grand jury, especially assembled to hear the facts, returned an indictment immediately after the last witness had testified.

"It was a gruesome recital," said one of the jurors after the accusation for murder had been unanimously voted. "The facts were so plain and convincing and so horrible that the response of the jury to the demands of justice was instant."

INDORSES AMENDMENT

Monegomery, Ala., July 14.—President Wilson has interposed his personality into the fight over the Susan B. Anthony suffrage amendment, telgraphing Governor Kilby, to express his earnest hope that it will be ratified by "the great State of Alabama," The President continuing, declared that it would constitute a very happy augury for the future and add greatly to the strength of a movement which in his judgment is based upon the highest consideration both of justice and expediency.

The message received at the executive offices late Saturday evening was not commented on by the Governor, and very few members of the Legislature knew of it. In legislative circles it is practically conceded that the amendment is going to be repudiated, and those hearing of the President's message were not constrained to believe that it would turn the tide for the amendment.

Under legislative enactment Friday, the amendment is set for a special order of business Wednesday.

TRADE BAN TO BE LIFTED

Relations With Germany to be Resumed at Once

Trade relations with Germany will be resumed at once. Acting Secretary of State Polk announced last week. Formal announcement will be made to the world within forty-eight hours, Polk said.

The War Trade Board, now a part of the State Department, is prepared to issue a nofficial declaration lifting the blockade upon receipt of word from the Supreme Economic Council at Paris.

The decision to declare the blockade off, which was reached at a conference of State Department officials, is in accordance with the expressed views of President Wilson that the resumption of trade with Germany would not have to wait on the formal ratification of peace by this country.

TO BRING SOLDIERS FAMILIES

The George Washington Will Have 200 War Brides on Next Trip

New York, July 14.—The presidential ship George Washington, which sails back to France this week, has been fitted with a nursery to take care of the "war babies" returning on that vessel. Two hundred "war brides" are scheduled to sail on the transport on her next trip from France to this country, and, at the request of Dr. G. A. Ricker, the ship's surgeon, the American Red Cross has provided the ship with baby food, milk, clothing and other perquisites of infantile comfort.

With the arrival of the transport Cap Finisterre yesterday a total of 378 "war brides," with sixteen "war babies," wil have arrived at this port in a week. This is a record number Upon their arrival in this country the war brides are examined by immigration authorities and then taken to the Y. W. C. A. hostess houses, where they are entertained until arrangements can be made to send them to the homes of their soldier husbands.

Sixteen French brides aboard the Henderson, which arrived Saturday were accompanied by their husbands who were grouped into a casual company, commanded by a bachelor, Lieutenant C. C. Hopkins, of Pittsburgh Asked about a seventeenth bride, the lieutenant replied: "You can search me."

KILLED IN MOTOR CRASH

Automobiles Meets Head-on, Fall to Trolley Track and are Struck by a Speeding Car

Lancaster, Pa., July 14.—Two small boys were instantly killed and seven persons injured, some seriously, Saturday night, when two large touring cars collided on the Lincoln Highway near Greenland, turned over on the tracks of the Conestoga Traction Company and were run into by a speeding trolley freight car. The dead are: Chester, 7 year old son of Clayton Groff, this county, and the 8 year old son of J. H. Cooper, of Parkesburg. He was almost decapitated.

MAYOR'S DOG CAUGHT

Danville, Va., July 14.—Mayor Harry Wooding a few days ago gave injunctions to the police force to put all dogs found unmuzzled on the street in the dog pound. Yesterday a policeman found "Dixe," the Mayor's pet terrior, roaming on Main street without a muzzle, and he quickly collared the canine and put him with the others in the municipal kennels. Captain Wooding soon heard of it and dispatched his son to the rescue, which was effected only after the customary fees had been paid to the pound master.

Three members of a delegation of merchants, teachers and students succeeded in wounding themselves severely before palace guards could stop them.

Word of the protest was received in a message from Peking to N. C. King in San Francisco, president of the Chinese National Welfare Society.

FIND OLD RELICS IN ATTICS

Richmond, Va., July 14.—Many strange things are finding their way from attics and hall closets into the light of day, as the result of the "clean up" salvages campaign initiated in the Fifth Federal reserve district, by the woman's division of the war loan organization here.

Seaching through an old barrel of stuff that had ben packed away for years, one woman found a pair of beautiful cut glass salt cellars that she had never before seen. An antique seal ring, probably used in George Washington's time, was found in a chest of old clothes by another searcher.

One of the most interesting relics turned up in a newspaper, the Virginia Gazette and General Advertiser, published in Richmond, Wednesday, July 13, 1791.

NOW IS THE TIME

To Build Up Permanently. Nature at Its Best as an Aid.

If you who are weak, nervous and run down from over-work, worry of any other cause would only realize that the summer months is the time to build up strength and vigor there would not be so many collapses and rushing for aid during the winter.

The plan to follow is simple: plenty of rest and good wholesome food along with a strength-creating body- building tonic, Chasco-Vin with its Iron Manganese, Hypophosphites, Nux and other strength making ingredients, is the tonic we suggest.

If you follow this plan carefully you will notice a wonderful improvement in two weeks time. But don' give up too soon.

FAVOR STRIKE VOTE

Delegates of 24 Steel Unions Seek to Put End to Open Shop System

Representatives of 24 affiliated international unions of workers in the steel industry, at a meeting in Washington last week, adopted a resolution recommending that a strike vote be taken among their membership. Definite action on the recommendation will be taken at a conference of the international union presidents, to be held in Pittsburgh July 20.

Representatives of the unions said the object of the strike, if voted, would be to enforce recognition of the unions by the steel industry, which always has operated on an "open-shop" basis.

The union representatives claimed that a letter written by President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, to Judge Elbert B. Gary as president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, to ascertain the position of steel employes with regard to recognition of the unions, had not been answered. Failure on the part of the steel interests to respond, they said, led to the recommendation for a strike vote.

Since the establishment of a national committee to head the 24 affiliated international steel unions was authorized by the American Federation of Labor more than a year ago, the union representatives said, membership in the unions had increased until they now embrace from 25 to 90 per cent of the steel workers in all the important plants of the country.

SIX FIREMEN KILLED

Philadelphia, July 14.—Six and possibly many more firemen were killed and at least eighteen were injured Saturday, when the walls of the five story warehouse of Jacob Botash and Brothers, 613 North American street, suddenly collapsed during a fire which gutted the building. The walls and roof fell without warning, carrying down in an avalanche of debris about thirty-five firemen.

PARIS WAITERS ON STRIKE

Paris, July 14.—One of the causes of the strike of waiters, which has forced the closing of nearly all the restaurants and hotel dining-rooms in Paris, was the ukase of the proprietors that "Garcons" must not wear mustaches.

The waiters resented this abridgement of their facial liberty and decided to strike. Some were so incensed that they stoned the windows of their former places of employment.

Efforts are being made to arrive at a compromise by which mustaches not long enough to drag in the soup shall be exempt from the order.

THEATRES

GRAND THEATRE

Winsome little Vivian Martin, star of "Little Miss Optimist," a Paramount Picture which will be shown tonight at the Grand Theatre was born near Grand Rapids, Mich., At the age of six, she was playing with Richard Mansfield in "Cyrano de Bergerac" by Edmond Rostand. Possibly it was this early start and the unprecedented success which has followed it that has made her one of the happiest and most optimistic stars of the screen—possibly it was just the fact that she was Herself—just adorable Vivian Martin. At any rate, the critics agree that "Little Miss Optimist," her latest Paramount picture, is well named. Also William Duncan in "The Man of Might."

INGOMAR THEATRE

There are plenty of thrills in "The Sea Waif," the new World Picture, starring Louise Huff, which is scheduled for showing tonight at the Ingomar Theatre. It is a story of a Maine fishing village, and it involves a musical comedy star from New York City and a number of other interesting personages. From start to finish it is interesting, entertaining and pleasing. "The Sea Waif," is just the sort of a picture that pleases everyone.

Chapter 11 of the "Tigers Trail," will also be shown.

RICHMOND THEATRE

Recognized as one of the world's leading novelists, Robert W. Chambers numbers among other successes, his novel of "The Firing Line," to be seen tonight at the Richmond Theatre. Alexandria, Va., June 2, 1919.

In line with our progressive banking methods, and to meet the demands of our patrons, we are installing on July 1st, an up-to-date Safe Deposit Department, under the personal supervision of one of our officers.

This has been made necessary from the fact that a large number of our depositors owning Liberty Bonds and other securities desire a safe place for their keeping.

It is our plan to enlarge the number of Safe Deposit Boxes, and make a rental charge to meet the operating expenses of this Department. This charge will become effective July 1st, 1919, and a bill will be sent out at that time to the holders of boxes, and if any desire to make any change we will be glad to have them call before the bills are rendered for the ensuing year.
